FUND COMMENTARY

AlphaNorth Growth Fund

March 2012

NAV
Series A (ANF010) $9.300
Series F (ANF011) $9.370

Fund Review Equities began a period of consolidation in March as reflected by the TSX Composite which returned (2.0%). The Fund NAV decreased from $9.83 in February to $9.30 at the end of March. Please note that OSC rules do not allow us to report the performance for mutual funds prior to the completion of a one year history. The consumer and industrial sectors performed the best during March while energy and materials performed the worst. The fund had benefitted from its high weighting in the resource sectors over the first two months of the year but it gave back some performance in March due to this higher weighting. We are pleased that the NAV remains well ahead of its yearend value at March 31st.

We have been increasing the sector weightings in non-resource sectors. Our investment philosophy is to maintain diversification as much as possible and we have recently found attractive investment opportunities in other sectors. The Fund is currently fully invested. The sector mix is comprised of 7% in technology, 7% in health care, 14% in consumer discretionary, 4% in financials, 25% in energy and 43% in materials.

Outlook Although Canadian equity indices have rallied from the lows of last Fall, they have lagged the majority of other major equity indices around the world over this time frame. This is largely a result of the poor performance of the resource sectors which have underperformed in recent weeks. Investor concerns regarding China's slowing growth rate and its impact on commodities has been the main factor. It is our belief that the Chinese economy will re-accelerate and this underperformance will not continue. These concerns are rather surprising given that it was not long ago that the media and investors were concerned about China's increasing inflation rate. The Chinese government implemented policies to slow growth thereby curbing inflation. Now the concern is slowing growth.

The correction in recent weeks is quite modest in the context of the 20%+ rally experienced by most major equity indices worldwide in only five months. It is our view that China's economy will re-accelerate over the balance of 2012 contributing to strong commodity prices. This will greatly benefit Canadian equity indices which are highly weighted in the resource sectors. It is likely that Canadian equities will begin to outperform from current levels.

Regards,

Steven Palmer, CFA
President and CEO

Investment Strategy

The AlphaNorth Growth Fund (the "Fund") is an open-ended mutual fund focusing primarily on Canadian small to mid-capitalization equities, between $100 million and $5 billion market capitalization.

The Fund employs a similar style and investment methodology as the highly successful AlphaNorth Partners Fund. The Fund's investment objective is to maximize returns over the long term through superior selection of principally Canadian securities.

AlphaNorth believes that superior long term investment returns are achievable by exploiting inefficiencies in the Canadian small to medium-cap universe through careful security selection. Fundamental analysis of companies is used in combination with technical analysis techniques, which has proven to be successful, to assist in the timing of buy/sell decisions. The firm combines both a bottom-up and top-down strategy in the selection of investments offering the best risk/reward characteristics.

Company Profile

Founded in 2007, AlphaNorth Asset Management's goal is to achieve superior long term returns for investors. Presently, AlphaNorth manages the AlphaNorth Partners Fund, a long biased small cap focused hedge fund, the AlphaNorth 2011 Flow-Through LP, the AlphaNorth 2012 Flow-Through LP and the AlphaNorth Growth Fund.
